

What's happening in Room 12?

For NAIDOC Week we made dot paintings and bracelets. For the dot painting, we had to choose an Australian animal – emu, platypus, joey or a boomerang. When we had finished, we had to research the indigenous name for the picture. We had to plait red, black and yellow string to make a bracelet. Those are the colours of the Aboriginal flag.

On the 14th of August we had NAIDOC day. We traced our hand then we did dot paintings. It was a little hard at first, but once you did it for a while it wasn't so hard after all. After lunch we made bracelets. It was so hard because every time I pulled it tight, I would have to start again. But I still had fun.

A few weeks ago we did a project about Africa and Europe. My group did Africa. The people in my group researched about 2 paragraphs of facts about Africa. I did plants and native animals from Africa. It was really fun!

We made a poster about Africa or Europe. We had to write about their native animals and plants, what their flags was and the countries in it. It was fun. We put pictures on our poster and animals. After we had finished, we did a Venn diagram about it and presented it to one of the other groups.

Our last excursion was to the Heath Ledger Theatre in Northbridge. We went to see a play called "A Ghost in my Suitcase." It was a play about ghost hunters fighting ghosts. We got to see the play because Lizzy entered a competition and she won!

In art with Mrs Horsham, we made butterflies. We got to put colours on them like yellow, blue and red.

On Fridays with Mrs Robinson we are doing a science project called 'package it better.' We work in groups of 3 or 4 and we have to design cookies for our principal Mr. Phoebe. You have to pick a container and if your cookies are broken when Mr. Phoebe gets them, you don't win.
